The Boston Branch offers sixteen classes in New England where you can learn Scottish Country Dancing. Fly across the floor to jigs and reels played on fiddle, piano, and pipes, or stride down the hall hand-in-hand with your partner to a stately strathspey. Once you learn the basic footwork and figures, you'll be well-prepared for any Scottish Country Dance from Boston to San Francisco...or from Australia to Japan to Scotland herself!

Find a class near you on our website. No partner or experience required.
